The doctors attached to The Evening World Sick Babies' Fund are working night and day among the unfortunate children of the poor. The hot spell was a cruel ordeal to these little sufferers, who are forced to spend the torrid months cooped up in hot, overcrowded tenements and in narrow, ill-smelling streets where few breaths of pure air can penetrate. Sickness and even death are pitifully common there. Amid these scenes the doctors of the Fund are busy with their life-saving crusade. To increase the scope of this grand work much money is needed. Contributions are earnestly requested; and each will go toward the saving of some little Contributions should be addressed to the Cs*hier of The World, Pulitzer Building, New York City.
